'88-'89 School Snow Days Will Not Be Made Up

Snow days will not be made up by Crawford AuSable School teachers and students, at least not during the 1988-89 school year. This decision was made by the Crawford AuSable School District's Board of Education at their monthly meeting on Monday, November 14th.

The Michigan Supreme Court ruled on June 27, 1988, that the State may not require school districts to makeup snow days.

Kent Reynolds, school superintendent, explained that snow days beyond the first two that are not made up carry a financial penalty of 1/180th of the district's state aid. That penalty said Reynolds is not greater this year than the cost to the district for making up their snow days. Each is about $1,000 per day. Reynolds said that should the legislature change the State Aid Act and increase the snow day penalty, the Board of Education would have to reconsider their decision.

Even though the district will not be making up snow days, it will continue to evaluate alternatives to closing school during inclement weather. If road conditions are certain to improve in the early morning, a delayed start of two hours may be called. Reduced routes may also be run. If routes are reduced, the school would notify parents whose children would be affected.

The Board of Education's decision not to makeup snow days will give Crawford AuSable students and teachers an unexpected holiday, Presidents Day on February 20th. Presidents Day is considered a State holiday, but would have been used for a snow day makeup day. The last day of school will be June 9th as originally scheduled. These are both changes in the published school calendar where school was scheduled for February 20th and June 9th was listed as a snow day makeup day.

Olympic Gold Medal Wrestler Visits GHS Nov. 30

Steve Fraser, America's first gold medalist in Greco-Roman wrestling, will be at Grayling High School November 30th.

He will speak to the entire student body on goal setting and he will present a wrestling clinic to the GHS team after school at 3:30 p.m.

Fraser currently serves as special projects coordinator for Domino's Pizza Distribution Corp. is on the U.S. Olympic coaching staff, the board of directors of USA Wrestling and is also an assistant wrestling coach for Eastern Michigan University.

Fraser's effort at the 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles was underscored by the fact that no other American grappler had won an Olympic medal of any kind — gold, silver or bronze — in Greco-Roman wrestling. The sport is limited to upper body moves and is typically dominated by Eastern European countries.

Fraser, 30, received numerous accolades following his Olympic feat. In 1984, he was a finalist for the James E. Sullivan award, which honors America's finest amateur athlete. He was also named Athlete of the Year by the U.S. Olympic Committee in wrestling, inducted into the Michigan Amateur Hall of Fame, and recognized as Amateur Athlete of the Year by USA Wrestling, the sport's governing body.

During his 1977-80 collegiate career at the University of Michigan, Fraser earned All-American honors twice and was a three-time All Big Ten selection. Fraser, a co-captain his senior year wrestled in several national and international competitions, including tournaments in the Soviet Union and Poland.

AIDS Curriculum Eyed By Crawford AuSable

The Crawford AuSable Board of Education is in the process of examining an AIDS prevention curriculum to be presented to 7, 10 and 12 grade students.

State law requires schools to teach AIDS prevention. To comply with this law and to help students understand the disease and develop the skills to deal with the social and emotional issues, the Board of Education conducted an initial reading of the proposed AIDS prevention curriculum and materials at their last meeting, November 14th.

The curriculum and materials were developed jointly by the Michigan Department of Public Health and the Michigan Department of Education, and recommended to the Board by an 11 member committee consisting of six teachers, two school administrators, two public health officials and a doctor from Mercy Hospital.

The curriculum focuses on the disease, how AIDS is and is not transmitted, myths and facts of AIDS, how AIDS can be prevented, behaviors which place a person at risk for infection, behaviors which reduce the risk of infection, the needs of people with AIDS, and resources and agencies which meet the needs of people with AIDS.

Instruction at the 7th grade level will involve a one-week unit in the 7th grade science classes immediately following the six-week Quest Program in the spring. (The Quest Program is a self-awareness program that encourages the growth of self-confidence, better communication with family, and the ability to evaluate the good and bad affects of peer pressure among adolescents. The program is designed to help young adults make competent decisions regarding the use of drugs, alcohol and tobacco.)

For this year only, the same instruction will take place in the 8th grade science classes.

High school instruction will occur at the 10th and 12th grade levels. Tenth grade students will receive the AIDS prevention information in their required health classes. The 12th grade instruction will be incorporated into either the required consumer education or civic education classes.

The AIDS prevention materials will include four video tapes which will be used during the instructional units. Parents will be invited to attend a meeting during the week prior to AIDS instruction in their children's classes. Curriculum materials to be used during instruction will be shared with parents during these meetings.

Members of the committee which developed the curriculum recommendations included Butch Hayes and Becky Brown from Grayling High School, Carrie Mayes and Fred Wolcott from the Grayling Middle School, Bob Andrus and Kathryn Vatiech from the Grayling Elementary School, Marie Mahaney and Patty McClure from the Public Health Department, Mike Branch, Grayling High School Assistant Principal, Kent Reynolds, Superintendent, and Dr. Pary Reza from Mercy Hospital.

This committee met with the AuSable Ministerial Association and the Board of Education Curriculum Committee to review the recommendations and video tapes prior to the presentation before the full Board.

The recommended curriculum and materials will be considered for action at the December 12 Board of Education meeting.

The recommended curriculum and materials are available in the school board office for review.

Fish Hatchery Clean-up Program Nets 338 Bags

By Irene Pettyjohn

Final tabulations have been made that show the Grayling Fish Hatchery Environmental Clean-up Program not only removed from the County 338 bags of unwanted litter, but it saved the County nearly $10,000.

The program, sponsored by a $5,000 grant from the Georgia-Pacific Corporation, benefited the residents of Crawford County in three areas. It cleaned litter from the AuSable River and from the County's roadways, it saved the County $3,465.00 in jail expenses and $6,432.00 in labor costs, and it provided work-release time for County prisoners, who would otherwise have served out their sentences confined and inactive, a situation Sheriff Hatfield considers demoralizing.

The Environmental Clean-up Program provided for the removal of litter from both the AuSable River and from County roadways. Sixty-five bags of refuse were retrieved from 50 miles of the AuSable River. Inmate crews cleaned the Mainstream of the river from the Fish Hatchery to Wakeley Bridge, from Chase Bridge to Smith Bridge on the South Branch, and on the East Branch from the I-75 Bridge back to the Mainstream.

In addition to the river clean-up, 251 bags of trash was collected from 77 miles of County roads. Affected areas included North Down River Road from the Fish Hatchery to Wakeley Bridge Road, M-72 East from Grayling to Wakeley Bridge Road, Wakeley Bridge Road, Stephan Bridge Road, and the following AuSable River access roads: Headquarters, Whirlpool, Burton's Landing, Louie's Landing, Keystone Landing, and Thendara. The road clean-up also included the Industrial Park area, Old 27 between Grayling and Frederic, and M-72 West from Grayling to the Manistee River.

Labor for the clean-up program was provided through the Crawford County Inmate Work Program. This program offers inmates serving time in the County Jail, who meet the jail administrators' eligibility criteria, an opportunity to work off court-ordered community service time, or reduce their jail sentences 1/2 day for each full day they work.

Last summer six inmates worked a total of 1,608 hours (202 days) in the work-release program. The County saved $3,465.00 in jail expenses because of reduced jail sentences. (According to Jail Administrator, Michael Johnson, it costs the County $37.48 per day to house each prisoner.)

"Estimated savings to taxpayers on community service hours alone amounted to $6,432.00," said Bob Smock, Chairman of the Grayling Fish Hatchery, estimating how much it would have cost to pay a crew to clean up the litter.

The third benefit of the program benefits the County indirectly through its prison population. The Crawford County Jail system cannot afford to provide a gym, workshop, or other activities for its prisoners. Consequently, County prisoners spend the majority of their sentences confined in a cell with three other prisoners with nothing to do all day and all night but think, sleep and many times, create problems for the jail administrators.

Sheriff Hatfield stated that serving a jail sentence at the County level, can be more difficult than at the state level, because of the hours of inactivity. He said that prisoners who are able to participate in a work-release program exhibit positive responses. Their self-esteem improves, they are less argumentative, and they are able to sleep through the night. In short, they feel better.

In a summary of the 1988 Environmental Clean-up Program, Smock made three ob-

Miss Grayling Encourages Area Girls To Compete

As Miss Grayling 1988, I would like to encourage area girls to enter the pageant for 1989. The pageant is such a good opportunity for talented women to earn valuable scholarship money for their education.

I find it unbelievable that my year as Miss Grayling has come to an end. However, in a short time I will be crowning one very lucky young lady.

Looking back, I can recall what fun I had competing for Miss Grayling. I discovered new friendships in the other contestants, which I will never forget. The challenges we faced made us better and stronger people.

Being Miss Grayling and participating in the Miss Michigan Scholarship Pageant gave me the self confidence to strive for the personal goals I want to achieve. I was not able to compete for the title of Miss Michigan due to dislocating my knee during the preliminaries, but the experience gave me valuable knowledge that I can pass onto future Miss Graylings.

I intend to give a great deal of support to Miss Grayling 1989 so that she may return home in June with the title of Miss Michigan. This is a fantastic opportunity for young women to acquire scholarship money and other benefits. You will become acquainted with businesspeople and officials from the community and around the state. You will have the chance to visit other areas of Michigan while representing Grayling in festivals and parades, and of course you'll meet many new friends along the way.

If you have a talent and are willing to work very hard on your goals and for your community, pick up your application soon. I look forward to working with you. If you have any questions, please contact me through the Chamber of Commerce. Good Luck!

Crawford County Hospice Available For Residents

November is National Hospice month and as Hospice of Crawford County celebrates another year of activity they would like to provide the community with some information on what Hospice of Crawford County is about.

What is Hospice?
Hospice is a program providing support and care for persons in the last phase of incurable disease so they can live as fully and comfortably as possible.

Who is eligible for Hospice care?

The patient must be a citizen of Crawford County. The family/client must consent to participate in the Hospice Program with the approval of the attending physician. In our county patient care is within the person's home.

Who provides Hospice care?

Hospice needs at least one person to be the primary caregiver for the patient. This may be a family member, friend, or employer or a combination of all three. A team of professional volunteers provide medical and nursing care, symptom and pain control, personal care, spiritual guidance, and emotional and bereavement support. Trained lay volunteers provide companionship, child care, transportation, supportive visiting, home-making, meal preparation and friendship. There is no charge for Hospice services.

I have family and friends to help, do I still need Hospice?
Hospice does not replace your family or friends, but Hospice can help them in helping you. The client's family will have the reassurance of the 24-hour, 7-day-on-call availability of Hospice.

Isn't it too soon to call Hospice?

A common regret is that families do not get help until it is so late that everyone is exhausted and there is burn-out and crisis. Hospice does best when it is arranged by the family early. The family can decide how much or how little help is needed.

Because dying is living intensified, the qualities most needed to support someone dying are the same ones needed for living fully: love, compassion, courage, serenity, endurance, humor and humility.

servations and recommendations regarding Crawford County's litter problem. Smock said that litter comes from both tourists and local citizens and that the problem is increasing every year. He recommended creating greater awareness of the litter problem by displaying tasteful signs along highways and at public access landings. He also recommended enforcing existing laws by fining violators and assigning them community service hours to be worked in an environmental clean-up program.

Smock observed that river litter is primarily the result of canoeists and that canoeists need to be educated regarding the effects of litter on the river systems. This, he said, can be accomplished through local canoe livery and landing signs, by reducing or eliminating alcohol use on the river, or by limiting canoeists' use of the river.

"Intoxicated canoeists simply do not care," stated Smock.

In his final observation Smock stated that taxpayers could save thousands of dollars by expanding the existing program to include more inmates and clean a larger area of rivers and roads.

"This must be done carefully," said Smock, "through tough eligibility criteria by the jail."

"We believe this program needs to continue each year," he said. "It benefits all of us as we pull together in this community to remain strong, united, and work towards the common goals of preserving mother nature's beautiful environment."

... about your Social Security

Trust Funds Buildup Key To System

Recently we've seen a lot in the news about the buildup in the Social Security trust fund reserves. This is certainly good news, after the financial difficulties of the early 1980's.

Since the Congress changed the law in 1983 to strengthen the financial health of the system, the trust fund reserve has increased each year. Present reserves will amount to $100 billion by the end of the year, and are expected to equal $1 trillion by the year 2000 and $12 trillion by 2030.

The size of the reserves has generated a number of suggestions on how the funds might be used, since they are not needed to pay current benefits. The suggestions range from lowering Social Security taxes, to increasing benefits, to reducing the deficit, to investing in private industry.

Remember, though, that the trust funds are working as they are designed to do — pay benefits when the benefits payments exceed the tax collections for any given period. This should happen around the year 2020, when the "baby boomers" — the huge group of people born between 1948 and 1964 — begin to retire. The reserves will be needed to pay benefits then, so it is critical that they be allowed to build.

Until the 1983 amendments, the Social Security system was expecting to run out of money shortly after the turn of the century. But those amendments made several changes designed to increase income into the system, to provide for the payment of benefits well into the next century. If these funds are spent for other purposes, then more Social Security taxes will be needed in the future in order to pay benefits to the increasing number of elderly people. This is what the present law is designed to avoid.

People who have questions about the trust fund buildup can read the 1988 trustees report, available at local libraries.

If you have questions about Social Security tax rates or benefits, you can now call toll free, 24-hours a day. The number is 800-234-SSA. An operator is available from 7:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. You can leave a message at other times.

A representative is at the County Building in Grayling on the first and third Tuesday of each month, 10:30-2:00. There is no phone service at this location.

Hanson Hills Millage Defeat Is Infuriating

Dear Jon,
I am writing to express my personal pleasure at the outcome of the recent elections. One is always pleased when one's candidates and issues are approved by the majority of voters. On the state level, I was glad to see the environmental bond issues and Proposal A passed, because I was convinced those were good for Michigan. I love my state dearly, and was glad to see issues approved that I felt important to the well being of my state.

On a local level, once again I voted with the majority, and issues and candidates I felt more important to Crawford County were approved by the majority. As I love Michigan, I also love Grayling and want the best for my home town and the people who live here. I was pleased with the outcome, except for one issue, and that one is infuriating to me. This is the Hanson Hills millage, which was not renewed. I never vote against any request for money to improve Grayling, whether it is a school issue, a senior citizens' issue, a recreation issue, a Dial-A-Ride issue. While I must pinch pennies like everyone else, I am willing to vote myself a tax increase to improve my home town. Most of these issues are not so expensive a tax increase as to be especially burdensome. For example, the Hanson Hills issue would have cost me only about $4.00 per year. Dial-A-Ride and the Commission on Aging would cost little more than that, certainly less than my employer recommended I contribute to United Way. I am glad to vote these tax increases to myself, knowing

Hope School Year Has Started Well

To Grayling Middle School Parents:

By now you have received the most important word about this past nine weeks of the school year — the report cards given to you at the recent Parent Teacher Conferences. The faculty and staff at the Grayling Middle School hope those reports are positive. We hope the school year has begun well for your child.

In full swing after finishing with a top rating in the state last year. The sixth grade band program has 57 musicians and the fifth grade beginning band has 76 newcomers to the program. Other school programs, such as the girls seventh and eighth grade basketball teams are nearing the end of a successful season, various organizations and Junior Pro are moving into operation. As you may know, we have completed a spirited election campaign for student council.

It seems to us at the middle school that classes began smoothly and that the first card marking period has been a fine beginning of what should be a productive school year. The boys and girls have been most cooperative.

The fifth graders adjusted easily to their new surroundings and their schedules, and are a friendly presence in the school. The sixth and seventh graders have made an excellent start in terms of academic work and overall behavior. They are making their last year, before entering high school next fall, a most rewarding experience.

Our seventh and eighth grade band program is now

In addition our Michigan Educational Assessment Program test scores have just been returned from the State Department of Education stating both our reading and math test scores have improved from last year. Of course, we as a faculty take great pride in this announcement.

If you have any concerns about any aspect of your son's or daughter's schooling, feel free to contact the teacher concerned, a guidance counselor, or me. We welcome your inquiries.

Thanksgiving Time For Us To Be Grateful

Today we seem to hear and read of so many troubled people and situations that it was refreshing to hear of a visiting professor at Amherst College in Massachusetts this year. According to doctors in Nigeria and Canada a few years ago, he was supposed to have only a short time to live, since they diagnosed a terminal condition of leukemia.

Rowland Abiodun was putting his affairs in order when he began to ponder a source of healing that hadn't seemed a serious possibility before — he's made a life-saving discovery — something millions of churchgoers from many denominations around the world will be considering this Thanksgiving — gratitude to God, to whom his healing is linked. He feels God has become a healing power in his life and it's made all the difference.

giving — gratitude to God, to whom his healing is linked. He feels God has become a healing power in his life and it's made all the difference.

This week is National Bible Week, and the thread of spiritual healing throughout both the Old and New Testaments reaffirms the conviction of people from many religious persuasions that "God is...a very present help in trouble."

This feeling of God's presence and power helps explain why so many denominations, including the Christian Science churches worldwide, will be offering a special Thanksgiving service this year.

Prediction: Bush again in 1992

HOW'S THIS FOR a long-range prediction: President George Bush will be re-elected in 1992, and with an even bigger margin than he ran up in 1988.

This prediction is based upon a couple of factors.

First is that George Bush will turn out to be a darned good president. He will surprise his critics, and even some of his present supporters, with his White House performance during the next four years.

Looking back at 1988, Mr. Bush conducted a masterful campaign, in a strictly political sense. Keep in mind that in July, as Gov. Michael Dukakis accepted the Democratic party nomination, Mr. Bush was 17 points behind in polls. Mr. Dukakis and his Democrats were riding high.

Conventional wisdom in July was that Mr. Bush might as well pack it away and go home because the Democrats were going to end the "Reagan Revolution" and march on to a whopping victory in November.

Of course, it didn't happen that way. The Bush campaign correctly sized up the situation and did what it had to do.

WHAT WAS the biggest factor going against George Bush earlier this year? He was perceived as snobbish... ineffective... unconnected... do-nothing... loose-wristed... out-of-the-loop... uninvolved. In a word, Mr. Bush was seen as weak.

The campaign changed all that. How long since anyone has referred to George Bush as a wimp? No, indeed. By election day, George Bush emerged as decisive... activist... a real doer... almost macho. In a word, Mr. Bush is now seen as strong.

The Bush campaign not only cut down Mr. Dukakis... it did that effectively. More importantly, the campaign built up Mr. Bush.

THE NATION NOW can look for more of the same. For the past eight years, George Bush has been in the shadows of Ronald Reagan. No more. The earlier Bush public record more closely resembles the Bush of the campaign, and not the Bush of the vice presidency, although the last eight years certainly have tempered his views. Keep in mind that vice presidents who are strongly and decisively are few and far between.

Mr. Bush now has an excellent chance to build on all this background. I think he will be a strong president, but not unreasonable, and will approach matters from a worldwide perspective and with a sense of history.

I heard the news from Forrest Stewart in band class. I'm not certain how he found out, but I think he overheard Mr. Long, our Band instructor, talking with the principal. Forrest was a joker and a prankster, but it seemed that even he should know there were some topics above being poked fun at.

"Come on, don't say that," I chided him. "It's true," he insisted. "That's not funny," I resisted. And so, as the woodwind and brass sections played on, we...the percussion section of the Big Rapids Middle School Band...sat for the rest of 6th period on Friday, November 22, 1983, discussing Forrest's news, preposterous though it seemed: that the President of the United States of America had just been shot.

As 6th period ended, the rumor had circulated beyond the staff and the school buzzed with anxiety. Mr. Turco, the principal, spoke over the public address system to confirm that John F. Kennedy had been shot, but his condition was still unknown. Our mathematics teacher, whose name I have long since forgotten, demanded little of us for the rest of the period that day.

Thankfully, school ended soon, because we had lost our ability to concentrate on textbooks. Within minutes, we would be in our homes and the television would become our learning medium. We would be studying lessons in history, political science, sociology, psychology and geography. For the next three days, normal life was put on hold as families huddled and watched together.

Dave got the news as he finished his work shift in the Michigan State University library. He says that later, as he walked past a women's dorm, he heard so many students inside crying that he had the sensation the building itself was weeping.

He went to his family's home in Flint for the week-end. They pulled the drapes to separate themselves from what suddenly seemed like a dangerous, hostile world. Then, in the relative safety and security of their living room, they joined the rest of the global community to watch the events of the next three days unfold.

Twenty-five years have passed since John Fitzgerald Kennedy was killed. On this anniversary of his death, people all over the globe are sharing their reactions and memories and feelings with others. We must remember because we do not have the ability to forget. Anyone who is old enough to remember November 22, 1963, does so, and will for the rest of his life.

I've followed George Bush's career for a number of years, long prior to his vice presidency, and I've always been impressed. This longer-range perspective is the basis for my long-range prediction of Bush's reelection in 1992.

BUT EVEN IF THINGS don't work out with such sunshine from the Bush White House, he probably still will be elected again in 1992 because the Democrats will help him.

Democrats are busy blaming everybody around for their loss. Some claim Gov. Dukakis conducted a terrible campaign, and squandered his 17 point lead. Others claim George Bush played dirty. Still others allege Jesse Jackson sat on his hands and scuttled the Dukakis effort. And others point to disorganization, and provincialism, and party splits, and everything under the sun.

Most Democrats contend that they really didn't lose on Nov. 8 at all. Sure, Mr. Bush won the White House, but Democrats continue to hold both houses of Congress, and they picked up a handful of governor seats, so the voters really prefer Democrats.

What about the presidency? Well, that's just a blip in an otherwise happy picture.

Perhaps there's some truth in all these viewpoints; in politics, you can prove almost any claim by isolating parts of a total picture.

BUT WHY DO the Democrats have so much trouble winning the presidency?

It seems to me that the way the Democrats run their national party, they can only nominate candidates they can't elect, and they cannot nominate candidates they can elect.

The way things are now run, only a liberal Democrat, or someone left of the political center, can win the nominating process; but the voters have shown time and again that they prefer their leaders to be nearer the mainstream and simply won't elect a liberal to the presidency.

Will the Democrats change their process and realign their system? Not by 1992.

Who are the leading Democratic candidates for 1992 at this point, before the ink is even dry on the 1988 results? Mario Cuomo, another liberal governor from the north-east, and Jesse Jackson, a social reformer.

The Democrats' penchant for presidential self-destruction is the real reason President Bush will be in for almost a free ride in 1992.

We remember the images: Jacqueline Kennedy in the blood-stained pink suit, LBJ being sworn in on Air Force One as Lady Bird and Jacqueline watched, Lee Harvey Oswald's contorted face as Jack Ruby shot him on live television, little John John Kennedy's salute as the procession passed by, the riderless horse being led down the street, the flag-draped casket, Jacqueline again with the sheer black veil covering her sad but composed face.

We remember the man: Whether we thought he was great or mediocre in his role, we remember him. He broke new ground as our first Catholic and youngest President ever elected. He was an inspiration to the young and to the disenfranchised. He created the Peace Corps and initiated the country's exploration of space and pushed for civil rights. He had great successes (the Cuban Missile Crisis, Berlin) and he had great failures (the Bay of Pigs, Vietnam).

We remember the myth: We call his short term in office Camelot. We fantasize about what would have been had he lived.

We remember the years which followed: His death seemed to precipitate a decade of horror. Love and idealism turned to hate and cynicism. Young people became embittered. Martin Luther King was killed. Bobby Kennedy was killed. Policy makers sent soldiers to Vietnam to kill and be killed. Protestors blew up buildings and four college students were shot dead by National Guard troops. Would it never end?

It hasn't ended. Crazy reigns. Potential assassins tried to kill President Ford and then President Reagan and we barely blinked an eye. Leaders all over the world have been killed. We take the news in stride. Twenty-five years later, we have become toughened to such things.

Maybe as a nation, we are beyond innocence. We know too much. We have seen too much. Living with the constant threat of nuclear holocaust — through war, through terrorism, or through error — maybe we dare not care too much.

I think that for the sake of humanity, we cannot afford to forget. So I add my small, insignificant voice to the many others who remember JFK this week.

And I suggest that we revive the spirit of the Kennedy years. We should again find the idealism that he shared with us. We should recapture our ability to be shocked, appalled. We should regain our innocence. We should build a new Camelot.

The trouble is, we haven't figured out how to do that yet.

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson
Avalanche Editor

Quite a few Crawford County residents didn't get too excited about the elections because they're fed up with politicians and government in general. They work hard to pay their taxes and then they watch their money go to foreign countries, or some other ridiculous government study, or some other infuriating government practice such as paying $500 for a toilet seat or $20 for a simple nut or bolt.

How often do politicians really help us anyway?

Well, believe it or not, lawmakers do pass laws every so often that turn out to be gems. One decent, innovation law that the majority of people seem to like will be marking its 10th anniversary in Michigan on Dec. 3rd. It's Michigan's bottle bill, which banned the sale of non-returnable beer and carbonated soft drink containers.

Studies by the Michigan Dept. of Transportation show the bottle bill helped reduce roadside litter 41 percent and can litter dropped by 97 percent and bottle litter by 93 percent.

In addition to reducing ugly litter along the road, the bottle bill has removed about 600,000 tons of bottles and cans from Michigan garbage piles saving an estimated $25 million in disposal costs each year. Plus, the bottle bill is credited with a two-tenths of one percent reduction in Michigan's energy consumption a year. That equals a savings of 650 millions gallons of gasoline over the ten years gained from recycling.

The bottle bill has turned out to so accepted by state residents that a May, 1987, statewide survey showed 90.3 percent of the people surveyed would vote for the bottle bill again.

There are still a lot of opponents to the bottle bill but many people have been pleased with the results of the law.

Paying taxes becomes a little easier to digest when the lawmakers do something right every now and then.

Eye Care News

Richard P. Ferrigan
Certified Optician

Q. Will video games harm my children's eyes?
A. Actually, video games may help sharpen your children's vision rather than harm it but only if they are played in moderation. Staring at a video screen for hours on end puts the eyes under great stress. That can lead to headaches, fatigue, blurring vision and, in children and teens, may contribute to nearsightedness. Played in moderation, however, video games can help sharpen vision skills used in school, on the job and in sports. These include eye movement skills; eye-hand coordination; visual reaction time; visualization; and side vision awareness. Optometrists don't specify how many hours a day of video game play would be considered moderate play. Instead, they recommend five minute rest breaks for every 30 minutes of play. During rest breaks, players should look at things in the distance.

Grayling Advances To District Championship Games

The Grayling Varsity girls basketball team advanced to the District Championship game with Standish-Sterling after defeating Oscoda, 54-35, Saturday, Nov. 19.

The Grayling victory over Oscoda was the first time in four years that a Grayling team has won a game during the District tournaments. The Grayling Varsity girls basketball team has never won a District Championship.

Even though Grayling led Oscoda throughout the evening the team was not without its problems.

Coach Howard Lehti said that the girls went to Gladwin ready to play ball, knowing that in tournament play there are no second chances; however, the team ran into difficulties in the first half.

Whether the girls were nervous or a little intimidated by the idea of tournament play, the result was that they got off to a slow start. They missed scoring opportunities, suffered from "turnovers", and three of their five starters were in foul trouble by the end of the first half.

Lehti credited Patti Tremblay, who started at the point guard position and was in charge of running the offense, with being an important team catalyst, scoring 6 of her 9 game points in the first quarter which helped Grayling lead Oscoda at halftime.

At halftime Grayling held an eight point lead, 28-20, but because of the tightness of the team's playing in the first two quarters, Lehti said that they did not feel comfortable and confident about the situation.

During the first half Grayling out-fouled Oscoda, but in the second half, this situation reversed itself with Oscoda committing the greater number of fouls.

Lori Gust and Heather Stephenson shared high scoring honors, having 13 points each. Gust scored 9 of her 13 points in the fourth quarter which helped put Grayling "over-the-top." She was also credited with 9 rebounds and 5 steals. Stephenson had 10 rebounds, 7 assists and 4 steals.

Other points were scored by: Deanna Phelps 9 (12 rebounds), Patti Tremblay 8 (9 rebounds and 6 assists), Melanie Ojala 4 (5 rebounds), AJ Pratt 4, Margarita Perez 2, and Nikki Trenary 1 (5 rebounds).

Lehti said that Perez, Trenary and Pratt came off the bench and did a nice job filling in the team starters when they found themselves in early foul trouble.

Lehti also credits Deanna Phelps with playing one of the best consistent games of her career. Her rebounding was consistent for all four quarters, she had 7 for 12 at the free throw line, and played an excellent game throughout the evening.

The team returned to Grayling at approximately 11:00 p.m. on Saturday night, and were at the gym on Sunday at 8:30 a.m. for an extra practice to prepare for their championship game.

Coach Lehti compared the Standish-Sterling team to Gaylord and Sault Ste. Marie...good, but not unbeatable.

Grayling played Standish-Sterling for the District Championship on Tuesday, November 22. Because of the early Thanksgiving deadline, the Avalanche will report of the highlights of the game in next week's edition.

Grayling High School Considers New League

Grayling High School may be joining a new athletic league in the fall of 1990.

Athletic Director Mike Branch received authorization on Monday, November 14, from the Crawford-Avalanche School Board of Education to commit to participation in a new athletic league that is presently in its formative stages.

Seven schools have been involved in developmental discussions regarding the creation of the new league. These schools include Lincoln-Alcona, Boyne City, Johannesburg-Lewiston, Onaway, Rogers City, Whittemore-Prescott and Grayling High. Other schools that were mentioned for possible consideration for the new league were Charlevoix, Kalkaska, and St. Ignace.

The new league would have an open door policy, which would welcome schools with similar geographic and enrollment requirements, and allow schools to leave the league when it would be advantageous for them to affiliate with a different league.

December 13 has been set as the deadline for all schools to commit to the new league. This will provide schools who have league affiliations time to notify the league of their intentions to stay or leave the league.

Branch stated that even though he has been given authorization to join the new league, he will not be committing Grayling High School until at least six other schools commit to the new league.

The still unnamed new league will reduce the amount of travel time for all the schools involved and will provide competition among schools with student enrollments from 200 to 487. Grayling High School is presently affiliated with the Michigan Huron Shores Conference which ranges in school size from 247 students to 927 students. The following is a list of schools in the Michigan Huron Shores Conference and their estimated enrollments: Cheboygan 825, Gaylord 850, Petoskey 900, Sault Ste. Marie 975, Charlevoix 450, Rogers City 400, St. Ignace 270, and Grayling 487.

Included in Branch's recommendation to the board, he noted that it was his hope that the formation of the new league would initiate the domino effect among Michigan Class C and D schools resulting in the reorganization of all northern Michigan conferences. This possibility will be discussed at a meeting in early December which will involve all northern Michigan C and D schools. If reorganization occurs and proves successful, the schools involved in the newly formed league would move into even more favorable geographic and school size competition.

Regardless of whether Branch decides to commit to the new league in December or abstain from committing, Grayling High School is locked into their affiliation with the Michigan Huron Shores Conference until the fall of 1990.

The Gospel of John

Part #57

The Victor Over Death

Lazarus had been dead four days, and Jesus was coming. We see the contrast between Martha and Mary, as Martha rushed to meet Him, and Mary remained at the house. (John 11:20). By her seeming impatience she had doubted His progress. By her first words, she doubted His power. "Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died." (John 11:21). By her next words she seems to doubt His past prayer on behalf of Lazarus. "But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee." (John 11:22). I'm sure Martha didn't realize it, but she had been implying by her action and words that her Lord was slow, weak, and selfish toward her needs at that time.

Martha's doubts will be changed in her discourse with Christ. The first words of Jesus form a personal promise of resurrection. "Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again." (John 11:23). Martha missed the important meaning of this promise by generalizing it, and accepting it as merely a repeat of the prophetic promises of old. "Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day." (John 11:24). Then Jesus gave her the most perfect and profound promise possible concerning resurrection life. "Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live:

And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?" (John 11:25, 26). Martha is challenged with the question of her faith.

Martha now makes the same kind of famous profession of faith made by the apostle Peter, "She saith unto him, Yea, Lord; I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world." (John 11:27). Martha declared her faith in the deity of Jesus Christ as eternal God who came to earth in human flesh.

At times of sickness and death in our families, we often seek out Jesus Christ with the same kind of doubts as Martha. We fail to recognize that sickness and death are often part of God's plan for our lives, to redound to His eternal glory. We seem slow and weak to claim the personal promises of God's Holy Scripture. We are often blinded by the pain and personal shock of temporary loss of security. Jesus Christ wants us to experience His real presence during these difficult times. He wants us to mature in the faith, and trust Him fully as the God who has conquered death for eternity, and offers His own person as our security, strength, hope, and peace for time and eternity.

Giving Thanks

The real significance behind the celebration and observance of Thanksgiving Day is simply giving thanks.

When the Mayflower landed at Plymouth in 1620, the Pilgrims never realized that their first winter would be so harsh. Half their number died and painfully were buried in the frozen soil. The following springtime, with great determination, they sowed their seed and carefully tended the fields all summer long. These colonists knew that their very lives depended upon the fall harvest. Finally, for the abundance that was given them, they shared their bounty with friendly Indians and humbly gave thanks to the provider and source of all their blessings.

And so it is, the events of that first Thanksgiving clearly remind us that out of Faith and Hope we can overcome any hardship or struggle against great odds. We must always remain lightly interwoven with our religious beliefs.

This Thanksgiving, through the grace of God, be truly thankful and count your blessings.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

Recently, I saw a newspaper ad which struck me as funny, in a sad sort of way. Someone was offering for sale a 160 acre parcel of land which was "prime hunting area with a trout stream and deer yard". As an added incentive to potential buyers, the seller also offered to subdivide his land prior to sale. I can't help but wonder what would happen to the prime hunting area, trout stream and deer yard after the property was subdivided, cleared and houses built.

This situation points up the basic fact faced by fish and wildlife managers: proper habitat is the single most important key to survival of fish and wildlife species. With that in mind, it is easy to see why the National Wildlife Foundation holds that loss of habitat is the biggest threat to wildlife species in the world today.

Habitat is an environment that supplies everything a species needs to survive: food, water, cover and space. Not only must these items be provided they must be provided in sufficient quality and quantity. Each species has different requirements. For example, a Kirtland's Warbler and a ruffed grouse could not long survive if forced to live in each others habitat. And how long would brook trout live where carp thrive?

In some instances, wildlife habitat loss is a trade for a necessary increase in human habitat, but in far too many cases, greed and indifference result in unnecessary loss. A neat and tidy woodlot is poor habitat for most species of wildlife, cutting and filling to afford a better view of a river decreases water quality for fish and wetland draining to ease construction of superfluous facilities may well destroy waterfowl nesting and fish spawning areas.

If we hope to slow the drastically increasing rate of habitat loss, we must start at home, with our neighbors and with our government to be sure that unnecessary projects are not undertaken and what we have left is protected.

NOTICE OF HEARING

ON THE APPLICATION OF CMS GAS TRANSMISSION COMPANY FOR A CERTIFICATE OF PUBLIC CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY TO CONSTRUCT AND OPERATE THE EAST/CENTRAL BAY WET HEADER PIPELINE AND LATERAL IN OGEMAW, ARENAC, BAY, TUSCOLA AND MIDLAND COUNTIES

On October 19, 1988, CMS Gas Transmission Company (CMS) filed an application with the Michigan Public Service Commission (Commission) for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity to Construct and Operate the East/Central Bay Wet Header Pipeline and Lateral in Ogemaw, Arenac, Bay, Tuscola and Midland counties.

CMS is a Michigan corporation with principal offices located at 212 West Michigan Avenue, Jackson, Michigan, and is a wholly owned subsidiary of CMS Enterprises Company which is a subsidiary of CMS Energy Corporation.

CMS proposes to construct the East/Central Bay Wet Header Pipeline (Wet Header) and a related lateral (Lateral) which together would have a length of approximately 87.5 miles, composed of approximately 17.5 miles of 16", 27 miles of 12-3/4", 19 miles of 10-3/4" and 24 miles of 8-5/8" outside diameter (OD) steel pipe. The route of the Wet Header will consist of a "north" header extending approximately 52.5 miles southerly from West Branch Township, Ogemaw County to a proposed gas processing plant site in Midland Township, Midland County and an "east" header extending approximately 23 miles westerly from Hampton Township, Bay County to a point of interconnection with the "north" header in Williams Township, Bay County. The route of the Lateral will extend approximately 12 miles westerly from Akron Township, Tuscola County to the eastern terminus of the "east" header in Hampton Township, Bay County.

CMS proposes to construct a liquids receiving facility at the terminus of the Wet Header Pipeline in Midland County. CMS represents that this facility will separate and store liquids delivered by the Wet Header. CMS represents that the initial liquids receiving facility storage capacity is 200,000 gallons with provisions for expansion to 600,000 gallons.

CMS also proposes to construct a gas processing plant when the total Wet Header flow rate reaches approximately 50 million cubic feet per day (MMcfd). CMS represents that the plant will include gas dehydration, liquid hydrocarbon recovery, liquid hydrocarbon stabilization, product storage and residue gas compression facilities. CMS represents that it expects the initial gas processing plant capacity to be 50 MMcfd with provisions for expansion as future developments may require.

CMS represents that the proposed pipeline will benefit the state and public by providing a method of transporting natural gas and natural gas condensates from recently discovered reservoirs in the east and central portions of the State of Michigan to the proposed liquid receiving facilities in Midland County.

CMS represents that it does not contemplate purchasing the natural gas and natural gas condensates which would be transported in the pipeline system. The products to be transported will be owned by the purchasers and/or producers of the gas.

CMS represents that it believes there is an excess of 430 billion cubic feet (Bcf) of gas reserves which can be produced from the region and transported to market through the proposed pipeline system. CMS represents that transportation services will be provided on a first-come, first-served basis at a rate estimated to be 15 to 35 cents per million cubic feet (Mcf).

CMS represents that approximately 60 miles of the proposed pipeline will be constructed on right-of-way owned by Consumers Power Company with the remainder on privately owned right-of-way and in public road right-of-way. CMS further represents that the proposed pipeline and related facilities will be constructed, tested and operated in accordance with the requirements of the Michigan Gas Safety Code.

CMS' filing is available for inspection at the offices of the Commission Executive Secretary, 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan, and at the offices of CMS Gas Transmission Company, 212 West Michigan Avenue, Jackson, Michigan.

Jurisdiction is pursuant to 1929 PA 9, as amended, MCLA 483.101 et seq; 1919 PA 419, as amended, MCLA 480.51 et seq; 1939 PA 3, as amended, MCLA 460.1 et seq; 1969 PA 165, MCLA 483.151 et seq; 1970 PA 127, MCLA 691.1201 et seq; 1969 PA 306, as amended, MCLA 24.201 et seq; and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1979 Administrative Code, R 460.11 et seq.

In accordance with the Commission's November 7, 1988 Notice of Hearing in Case No. U-9256, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT:

A. A public hearing in this matter will be held at 9:00 AM on December 14, 1988, in the offices of the Commission, 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan. The hearing will be in the nature of a prehearing conference and will be held for the purpose of considering matters which will expedite this proceeding. Any interested persons may attend the hearing and participate, subject to the provisions of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

B. Any person seeking to intervene in accordance with Rule 11 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure Before the Commission shall file with the Commission, on or before December 9, 1988, an original and 12 copies of a Petition to Intervene, with a Proof of Service indicating service upon CMS Gas Transmission Company's Attorney, Mr. Francis X. Berkemeier, 212 West Michigan Avenue, Jackson, MI 49201.

Subparagraph (2) of said Rule 11 provides as follows:

"(2) A petition to intervene shall set out clearly and concisely the facts supporting the petitioner's alleged right or interest, the grounds of the proposed intervention, and the position of the petitioner in the proceeding, so as fully and completely to advise the parties and the commission of the specific issues of fact or law to be raised or controverted." (Emphasis added)

The Commission will require strict compliance with the above-quoted rule.

Boyhood Memories

If I close my eyes, I can visualize
My boyhood home once more
From my old bed where I laid my head
To the rag rugs on the floor.

The toys I had when I was a lad
I can recall each and every one
I remember best my wagon
And my Red Ryder B.B. gun

No boy ever had a better Mom and Dad
Than those fine folks of mine
They loved me enough to make things rough
When I stepped out of line.

When I was enough of a fool to break a rule
Knowing I was doing wrong
A trip to the wood shed was in order
And it wasn't to sing a song.

I learned every day sometimes the hard way
That the rules were for my own good
Seems every time I got hurt as a boy
I was not doing what I should.

I'm very glad the folks I had
Cared enough to keep me straight
I've never had to sing the jailhouse blues
In fact they were just great.

BUDDY'S WORKSHOP

User-Friendly Suppliers

Helpful For Do-It-Yourselfers

Clogged drains, leaky faucets and toilets that hiss in the night.

Bathrooms have replaced the kitchen of the 1970s as the room of the 1980s.

People want luxury now and finishes are the trend, say spokesmen for the outstanding product manufacturers.

The bathroom now is larger and filled with polished brass. But the beauty only highlights the ugliness of ordinary fittings, stops and connectors. But even the fixtures now are achieving a glamor they have lacked.

Faucets that once were chrome are now in colors with five finishes. Suppliers are outdoing each other in pedestal sinks and other remodeling items. Meanwhile, plumbing comes in second to electrical work in the do-it-yourselfers list of fears. People fear flooding their house or burning it down.

Suppliers boast their products are "user-friendly." Here are a few:

Eastman Line of Stops, Supplies and Fittings from U.S. Brass, 901 10th St., Plano, TX 75074.

Plumb Quik Pipes from Fernco, 300 S. Dayton St., Davison, MI 48423.

Uncopper Fittings Introduced by Genova Products Inc., 7034 E. Court St., Box 309, Davison, MI 48423-0309.

Ortho Books Videocassette on Plumbing, 6001 Bollinger Canyon Road, Room TB 120, San Ramon, CA 94583.

For Beginners, Flow Gard from Memory Metals Inc., 84 W. Park Place, Stamford, CT 06901.

Chicago Specialty, 20th Century Companies Inc., 5555 W. Howard St., Skokie, IL 60077.

Toilet Repair Kits from Fluidmaster Inc., Box 4264, 1800 Via Burton, Anaheim, CA 92803.

Some products may not yet be in the stores.
